2	Grow tech startups with investment fund	Lobby for more share of income tax for city	Walkable nodes in each ward	Strive to make river swimmable	1% of transportation capital budget for bicycle infrastructure	higher taxation in outer ring of new development	Open Government and Transparency of all data and decisions	No.
3
4	Economies are developed bottom up. City must do more to stimulate growth.	Lobby prov government for continued support in the RIGHT places.	FIX THE TRAFFIC PROBLEMS!!!!	Didn't select this one. Doing enough already.	I commute to work by bike. Continue to make transit/cycling/car pooling attractive. I bike because of health and because it is faster than driving on OUR HORRIBLE ROADS.	More centralized population base. Denser population means cheaper administration.	Tired of hearing about council arguments. Keep it internal and do your jobs.
5
6		We need transparency in city dealings.
7			- fix the roads		- fix the damn roads!		- stop wasting money on consultants
8
9
10
11		Partner with National companies to either maintain their commitment or bring in corporate offices to our City.			Press on with LRT expansion, high speed bus routes.
12	Leverage partnerships b/w city, health sector, university	Increase proportional share of the cost of services paid by outlying areas and suburbs	Continue development of rapid transit	Continue development of rapid transit	Continue development of rapid transit Improved bicycle infrastructure Sustain recreational space in river valley	Promote density, but respect scale of development in existing neighbourhoods	Enhanced transparency of council and administrative decisions is critical
13	Pursue private industry where above average industry growth is expected.	Ensure city contractors are held accountable and are charging competitive rates. Audits should be frequent.	Promote best of class templates for recreation options as researched in northern cities.	Ensure vigilant monitoring of our river valley and partner with other levels of government to defend the river.	See the forest through the trees. Designing roadways that promote frequent stoppages increases our carbon footprint. High traffic commercial zones need to be better at absorbing traffic off of the beaten path as opposed to on it.	Strike a balance between building upwards and building outwards. New York is an ugly city, and I would rather not emulate it.	Continue striving to offer more and more services online.	I feel that many city services seem overly rushed. I know that usually the complaint is that the city moves too slowly. But it seems like things are built or done sloppily, or in a wasteful manner, or have to be redone after the fact, or just don't work b

14	Focus on technology and green energy.	Don't spend money you don't have i.e. run balanced budgets.	Continue nurturing our communities as you have with Alberta Ave, etc. Find a way to decentralize the responsibility for Edmonton's distressed communities.	Lobby other orders of government to follow suit.	Fast track LRT expansion. Offer 24 hour busing. Send buses to the airport.	More public art, please. Integrate form and function. NO MORE EFFING concrete/brown buildings. Let's get some colour.	Keep the administration on a tighter leash. No more macro decision making without Council's input i.e. how did we end up with construction on every single major vein in the city?	Not at this time
15								While bus connections at transit centres are generally good, connections can be poor when transferring between buses at other locations like major intersections.
16					Make Edmonton Transit efficient so I don't have to ride a bus for 70 minutes for a trip that takes me 15 minutes to drive.	Maintain the roads.	No money for Arena or Museum.	better engagement of volunteers on City agencies and boards; improved park maintenance; better planning of construction and maintenance; don't just talk about less tolerance for 'crap' in development but actually change things, implement a 1% for art poli
17		Invest in ending homelessness☐ Invest in building community connectedness☐ Transfer money from police to crime prevention	Halt outward expansion; Infill development only	Expedite LRT	Expedite LRT, focus development on existing communities	Engage with artists and fine arts programs to beautify public spaces and involve edmontonians in building the character of the city at minimal cost

19	I would like to see MORE local business and LESS or NO American fast food locations especially on Whyte ave! Shame on you!				I would like to see a highly developed metro system since we have a long winter in this city. Shame on us!	I would love to see us transform our river valley!
20	Encourage denser neighbourhoods, creating a need for more shops and businesses which in turn would create the need for more shipping, manufacturing, warehousing, and production here in Edmonton.	Don't put City money into the downtown arena project, and consider pulling funding from Rexall Place. Arenas and concert venues may not be the place to be for a civic government making very little of the tax dollar. <input type="checkbox"/> <input type="checkbox"/> Building a more robust public trans	More density, working with the school boards and provincial government to maintain neighbourhood schools, more availability of transit.	Look into geothermal options for new city construction, encourage the same for private developments. Micro-generation too.	Consider toll entrances on most of the main entrances to Edmonton (perhaps excluding the Yellowhead and QE2) to encourage more transit use from the suburb cities, potentially opening up new options for transportation of goods. <input type="checkbox"/> <input type="checkbox"/> Offer 24-hour transit, to	Build up! Limit approvals of neighbourhoods on the fringes of Edmonton and encourage infill development and planning for the City Centre Lands.	More consultation options, including online, with neighbours on projects big and small. Every project has an impact (on residents, businesses, transportation, etc.) and the City of Edmonton must recognize that by being willing to talk with, and hear from,
22			Edmonton supports the successful integration of at-risk communities: the city is a safe, inclusive space for all its citizens.		Plan for walkable communities and reduce the pressures of sprawl.		The city recognizes its partnerships with other levels of governance, and actively seeks to ensure that city planning encourages smart investment in infrastructure by the province.	Reduce taxes and all the fees you keep adding on to our utility bills so it looks like you aren't raising taxes, you are not fooling anyone.
23	The City needs to support innovation and entrepreneurship in a wider variety of creative fields. Simply shifting from oil to tech is not the answer.				The City needs to coordinate with bedroom communities to create an integrated public transportation network - paid for by all communities.	The City needs to advocate for and support affordable family-friendly housing options, in different formats (apartment/townhouse/single family home) in the core.		Realize that we're a northern city, and we need much better plowing and road clearing in the winter.
24	Promote and support Edmonton's strong arts and culture scene, bringing more jobs in these areas to the city		Promote and support Edmonton's strong arts and culture scene		More support for biking			Many services could be farmed out to private companies and indeed many are. This is a trend which should continue.

25			Need a good sized Leisure Centre in the NE.	Protect the River Valley from any development as much as possible.	Continue to invest in ETS, make it more attractive for the public to switch from their personal vehicles. Give the buses more right of way, construct more LRT. 28							Better communication and cooperation between all branches of the City corporation
29	rely on more than oil economy		support economically diverse communities (communities for mixed-income residents) throughout the city, especially downtown		more support for cycling, walking and bus/lrt schedules that run frequently and allow easy travel throughout the city	concentrate on centre development; discourage sprawl (aggressively!)	More ability for citizens to challenge council decisions
30
31					Plan for Walkability
32	Improve support of local businesses.	Don't dump money into an arena.	Devolve revitalization to the community level. Each neighbourhood and community should have an invigorated community mainstreet with local businesses and services.	I like a lot of the plans that have come out recently to encourage Edmonton's environmental responsibility.	Buses everywhere. Also sidewalks. I work in an industrial area that only recently received a sidewalk and require three buses to get near my office. There are still parts of this town that remain difficult to access by public transit.	Full stop to outward expansion. Improve existing community livability.

38	Encourage industries that are outside the oil&gas boom and bust cycles (Research Parks?)				I'd like a safe and accessible way to enjoy attractions like the river valley (I cannot navigate stairs)
39		DO NOT PUT ANY TAXPAYERS FUNDS INTO ANY ARENA FOR PROFESSIONAL SPORTS			Develop a proper system of roadways and stop using traffic lights as a means to every traffic problem		Change Conflict of Interest rules so that councillors cannot vote on any matter where their spouse or children work for the corporation who will benefit from the vote.
40
41	Minimal risk or intervention here. It is a misunderstanding of the Public Sector to appoint it as an arbiter of future-state economics. Facilitate communication between industry and government; share plans; and, where interests converge leverage resources	Other than being accountable and transparent, it is difficult to imagine how any municipality purports to ensure financial sustainability in a globalized market. Pipe dream.	Build up, not out. Infill. Downtown development ... all the things that the city has said it would do, except without the continued urban sprawl to the SE, NE and SW.	Develop access to the river valley. People will only protect the valley if they understand and build a relationship with it. It is not just there for joggers and cyclists.	Increasing transit fares is wrong-headed if the objective is develop public transportation. Raise revenue by lowering or maintaining current fares and increasing ridership. Continue to spend on LRT development while costs are low are borrowing is cheap. (Again, Stop the Urban Sprawl. Suburbs are killing Edmonton and making services too expensive for all. Transform YEG's form by drawing a final boundary outside of which no YEG development occurs. Then develop/build within. It just makes mathematical sense.	Continue to allow for opportunities for citizens to participate in public decision-making (i.e. agencies, boards and commissions.)
42
44
45	Don't skimp on educated city employees to redirect funds to road building Ann low skill jobs	Stop supporting sprawl by catering to sprawl dwellers- focus on efficiencies from compact urban design where people can drive less and demand less infrastructure to build and maintain	Local communities with leisure, recreation, work, shopping near homes. Crack down on noise from vehicles and foster natural vegetation especially in areas around roads	More natural vegetation. Less noise. Fewer (but better) roads. More active transportation routes to destinations	Fewer roads. Narrower roads. More sidewalks and trails.	Stop building wider roads through existing neighborhoods. Cater more to local living than sprawl dwellers	Focus on quality of life, not quantity
46					more bike lanes in downtown or a better way to share the roads in downtown between busses, cars and bikes
47	A city is not a corporation...its mandate is to deliver services to its citizens...let the private sector worry about economic development.	Quit pretending that user fees are not taxes. This kind of publication makes one distrust politicians as well as this administration.	Again, an honest open governance is mandatory. Let citizens talk to civil servants get rid of the 311 buffer!	Clean the streets...haul away the snow, fill the potholes; hi-rises are a plague upon the environment.	Public transport is inefficient and expensive! Both in terms of $ but, more importantly in terms of overall CO2 debt. What are the energy costs per person mile traveled?	High density leads to more crime, more mental health issues and a more concentrated/sharp influence on the environment.	Transparent, open and honest...I doing mind posting for services...I HATE being managed !

48			Good transportation is the goal of a good city. To encourage people to use the transportation, it should be cheap or free.		A good rapid transit system that covers all areas of the city is a must.		Stop doing the petty things - such as passing laws that stop people parking on streets or on their own property. Concentrate on the big things - good transportation - bringing criminals to justice. Keeping the city safe.
49		More high tech industry, and business. More professionals may move in	Parks, Parks, and more parks. River valley is wonderful but what about the more outlying areas? More needs to be done on the gang problem.....not making a bylaw on the length of blade you have but on the ones that have blades....or other deadly weapons, p	If the taxes are going up then I would love to see a waste system much like Strathcona County has....a waste bin, a recyle bin and a composte bin. Cracking down on the distracted drivers would be great. I love how st	You are already trying to reform the downtown core, but perhaps trying to entice some businesses with a lower tax bracket perhaps in bringing some businesses back on Jasper ave in those rundown shops.
50			More policing, security cams on ALL streets. Busses run free at night. Lower the cost of taxes etc. Cut the cost of University/ College so that it is more affordable to everyone.		Lower the cost of bus fare...and have the LRT free.. Or provide free bus passes 2 per household that are good year round. Security on busses. Possible seatbelts on busses.		Have a listen to what people say. Do we REALLY need a new arena...or what about the airport?
51	No idea	No idea	Hire more police officers, to protected the street. I have an 18 year old daughter, and I'm nervous every time she goes out with friend. Even more so after wathching the news.Crime may not be as high as it was 30 yr. ago, but it's more horrific now.	Lower the cost of the ETS fairs and monthly passes.My other half and I would love to save money and the environment. But two bus passes a month is more then one parking pas at the U Of A. There is no insentive. Its very upsetting and stressful driving on	See above	No idea? But no more construction please.	Only if they DON'T give them selves raises, while the rest of the city goes with out,it's rude,esspecially with so many going with out. Seriously, that stunt 2 yr. ago where they all voted to get a raise was arrogant selfish and sickening.

54		Use funds = to sustain infrastructure□ - to benefit large sections of population with minimal additional fees□ ex. pools, library, transportation.
55	Be a leader in energy efficiency, retrofits, and distributed, renewable energy.	Be a leader in developing a green economy.	Devote a smaller proportion of tax dollars to giant, complex interchanges at the edge of town.	Protect the river valley from development and gravel mining.	Give priority to bicycles in urban planning routes, to incentivize use.	Denser living.	Stop pandering to developers and grow and tend a vision of a great city built for and by all of its citizens.
56	Develop an "export" strategy for products outside of oil and gas	Accountability when dealing with property developers	Ensure Edmontonians feel safe to walk in any part of the city.	Audit industrial activities more often.	More transit to new areas.	Make better use of existing developed land before breaking new ground around the city.	Random audits of senior civic gov't officers.
58			More access to community leisure centres - open more hours with more staff on site in order to have full services available more of the time.
59
60	Move away from traditional energy service sector - move towards research and technology	Project planning for infrastructure□ Maintain current facilities so they don't deteriorate and need replacement	Promote walkable spaces and shops in the downtown. Close down Rice Howard Way to cars.	Make it so the river valley is actually accessible and their is something to do down there.	Fast track LRT to West Edmonton Mall. That is the only place tourists want to go.	Limit urban boundaries and enforce high density infill.	Push for amalgamation with the province of local municipalities
61					ETS is an embarrassment.	Remember we are not Vancouver, nor are we Toronto.	How about we start using some logic and listen to the people of Edmonton?	Get ride of photo radar trucks and spend that money on actual police officers to go around and make our city safer.

79		Enforce the bypass already in existence that would bring in a lot of money!	Road maintenance in both summer and winter should reflect pride in our city, but at least give one route into our neighborhood that isn't under construction	Do a once a year big bin pickup in the city at the residences. In Oakville ON, where we used to live, once a year you could put anything out- tables, chairs, mattresses, etc and it could be out the whole week prior. That way people could help themselves	Make walking trails where people actually use them like in their neighbourhoods. 83			Minimize outward expansion! Focus on integration of existing neighbourhoods.		More bike lanes! Lengthened bus hours and better weekend service.	Cohesive aesthetic vision, landscape architecture etc.
84					Focus on LRT, and keeping roads safe (ie: improved snow removal, repaving/pothole repair)		Don't do backdoor deals with private business owners using taxpayer dollars (Arena) when we can't even have basic city services met.
85	Attract more white collar businesses, as opposed to industry only.	Don't cave into people wanting minimum tax raises, the City has been nicked and dimed for so long it shows in our lack of infrastructure.	Cap development at the current City boundaries, focus growth inwards.		Focus on LRT extensions ASAP.		Stop being pushed by special interests groups, most people in the City want to see a vibrant, dynamic city, not the cheapest version possible.

210	Not the City of Edmonton's role.	Utilize permanent staff instead of contractors for infrastructure building and maintenance.	Improve traffic flow outside of communities (by eliminating traffic lights and stop-start flow systems). Reduce traffic through housing neighbourhoods by encouraging higher speeds on main arterial roads and reducing speeds and through routes in community	Establish more small parks and public walking/cycling areas.	Make public transportation very low cost and subsidize it through taxes on housing and parking in inner-city parkades. (Even though that would personally hurt me financially)	Encourage more densely packed housing just on the outskirts of the city centre (within easy walking distance of the centre)	Explain what you mean by this (see http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Good_governance) □ Ensure that the city is governed in a manner that is fiscally responsible and wise.	Repair or replacing roads and sidewalks in older neighbourhoods that need it before newer neighbourhoods.
211	Leave economic diversity to the Province, which is where it belongs.	Do not borrow against future tax income.	Do a much better job on mosquito control.	This is essentially a provincial/federal responsibility. □ Do not buy into expensive and unproven "green solutions". They generally just move the problem from one location to another.	We have an excellent bus system, but an LRT that conveniently services less than 10 % of the city. The city is growing faster than the LRT system. It will never catch up. Concentrate on what works(buses) in a sprawling metropolis.	With a zoning area of 700 square kilometers. It is difficult if not impossible to change our urban form. Don't waste money on studies or personnel to look for a solution that is not there.	For many years Municipal taxes have increased at almost twice the cost of living. Private Corporations cannot survive if their expenses increase this way. The city must control it's burgeoning bureaucracy.	Exercise some control over departments and force cost reduction and waste reduction.
212	Encourage development of clean energy sector R+D and businesses	Decrease Debt.	Encourage housing development downtown, and diversify downtown entertainment options by building an arena as long as this does not increase Edmonton's debt.	Protect river valley with the exception of rossdale neighbourhood which should integrate urban and nature with recipricol respect between the two.	Limit road expansion (not completely stop) and shifts resources to development of Light rail. Light rail should be efficient and direct. West end route should be reconsidered. 87ave route the better route and should be considered despite rich citizens	I believe this is already underway with Jasper avenue redevelopment and 108st redevelopment. Continuing Store front renovations. Considering needs of pedestrians and cyclists in the urban core. Pedestrian only scatter cross signals and urban park space	Be more transparent. Certain goings on give citizens the idea that Local government does not respect our opinion and rather save us the trouble of having to worry about things "we couldn't possibly understand"	The city still needs to improve its' visual appearance. Grass left uncut along roadways and litter leave a poor impression of the city.
213								1. Better road improvements (i.e. pot hole repair and re-paving). □ 2. Better public transportation (i.e. LRT). □ 3. Less frequent property tax increases.

295	Difficult to do. Edmonton is a blue collar city, and always will be.	No city tax money for private business enterprises, like a new arena. No more hair-brained, expensive, schemes like bidding for a World's Fair.	Fix the potholed, moonscape, roads! Clear the snow from roads as quickly as possible. Provide more police on the streets for public safety.	More effort to prevent increasing noise pollution.	All LRT lines in the downtown core should be underground, to prevent surface traffic congestion. The SLRT has shown what happens if traffic is held up at level crossings.	The continuing spread of new residential development to the city's outlying areas must be reigned in. In future years, the cost to service such areas with infrastructure will become unsustainable if the problem is not dealt with now.	City council must give priority to spending tax money on city services for city residents, and not on frivolous, "nice to have", features, or events.	better urban planning, increase residential density in the core
296							Open public discussions, no back room deals on new projects	no
297								Grade separate NLRT. Install smart card payment system for transit, so 2 stops on LRT does not cost the same fare as 12 stops. Use a zone system and "oyster card" similar to London or Hong Kong. Learn from the best, don't reinvent the wheel. No use run

This broadens the financial base.	Safe Streets and transportation. Personally I am afraid to be out after dark on public transit or on our streets. That is sad and creates an atmosphere that is not inclusive in nature.	There are many answers to this and the options each have drawbacks, particularly the use of renewable bio fuels that threaten the global food supply. Creative thought and open thinking are musts.	Cannot be done effectively without public safety. I am afraid at night to be out. This is not the case in Paris, Rome, London or the major centres where I have used public transit vigorously. WE MUST LEARN THIS.	A vibrant city is an attractive city. But vibrancy must be inclusive and currently we are an exclusive city with regards to citizens that are not youth.	The need to manage our fiscal budget is key to the well-being and health of the city and its citizens. The mayor is doing a fine job and as each day passes the need is to renew our vision and not to rest on our laurels. Concentrate on investing heavily in the downtown and other mature communities. Investing in the public realm is vital.	Work with the Province to establish the appropriate laws/mechanisms that ensure ecologically sensitive and important habitats can be maintained and/or integrated with new development.	The City should become more involved in the design of new neighbourhoods so they are planned to reduce the need to use the automobile and are better accessible for transit.	Same as above. Downtown has already changed beyond recognition since the 1990s. Grant MacEwen, AGA, new RAM (if it happens), many new condos, refurbished Federal Building, and the new arena are really transforming it.	I think the municipalities are some of the best run govts in the country. They get exceptionally good value for the dollar when compared to Prov or Fed departments. Keep it open and transparent.	no

1113		Use the taxpayers money to maintain city infrastructure instead of subsidizing private businesses such as the Oilers	Use taxpayer money to improve our infrastructure.	There needs to be more emphasis on keeping large industrial areas clean and tidy. Many of these areas are strewn with garbage, etc. Businesses should be held more accountable.	We need to expand the transit system to make it more accessible and interconnect with industrial areas to cut down on automobile use.	We need to cut urban sprawl and preserve the prime farm land which is now going under concrete and pavement.	Good governance would say we use taxpayer dollars to fund taxpayer services such as swimming pools, infrastructure, etc instead of arenas to support private industry. The end jobs created by the arena are low level service jobs.	I see upwards of 10 Transit Peace Officers having coffee at the same time. There must be a better use of this resource.
