Note:

The Children and Family Services Division with the Alberta Government is responsible for licensing Day Cares and out of School Care homes. Their definition of what a day care and Out of School care home is different from the definition that is provided under the Edmonton Zoning Bylaw for child care facilities. Anyone wishing to operate a child care facility should be contacting the Children and Family Services Division of the Alberta Government first to determine whether they require a license and/or other provisions for the operations they are proposing.

Once Children and Family Services Division has discussed an applicant's submission, they will refer the applicant to the Development Services Branch of the City of Edmonton to ensure that the activities being proposed will be allowed under the Edmonton Zoning Bylaw for that specific address.

The Edmonton Zoning Bylaw only requires that an applicant get Development approval if their operations meet the requirements established under the definition for Child Care Services in the Edmonton Zoning Bylaw:

Edmonton Zoning Bylaw's definition of Child Care Services is: a development intended to provide care, educational activities and supervision for groups of seven or more children under 13 years of age during the day or evening, but does not generally include overnight accommodation. This Use Class typically includes daycare centres; out-of-school care centres; preschools; and dayhomes/group family care providing child care to seven or more children within the care provider's residence.
