

Share the Air.

Smoking rules have changed in Edmonton for tobacco and cannabis.

Cannabis will be legal across Canada on October 17, 2018. And in Edmonton, that means there are some new rules to follow for smoking – because we all share the air. Consider your neighbours. Consider your own safety. And before you light up, know the rules.

AT HOME

Cannabis

At home – but that may be different if you rent or live in a condo.

PUBLIC SPACES

Cannabis

In some parks and trails, but there are restrictions.

Can'tabis

On patios, in parks with a playground, sports field, skate or bicycle park, outdoor theatre, pool or spray park, skating rink or off-leash area.

Can'tabis

On the properties of:

- Hospitals
- Schools
- Daycares
- City-owned golf courses
- Cemeteries
- Ski hills
- Bus terminals & LRT platforms

Using an ashtray is a joint effort

Here's a don'tabis. Never dispose of a cigarette or joint in a plant pot. Improper disposal is the top cause of fires in Alberta. Always use an ashtray and fully extinguish whatever you've been smoking.

We all share the air

Here's a shouldabis. Smoke away from your neighbours' open windows and doors. Talk to them about a smoke etiquette that works for everyone.

SIDEWALKS

Cannabis

On some sidewalks.

Can'tabis

Within 10 metres of a bus stop, patio, doorway, window or air intake of a building.

VEHICLES

Can'tabis

Same rules as alcohol apply. You cannot consume in a vehicle, including public transport & taxis.

Cannabis

In a vehicle being used as a temporary residence, like a parked RV.

FESTIVALS

Cannabis

At some festivals and public events, but only in designated areas.

And hey, if you're in another city or town, different rules apply. Make sure you're aware before you light up.
