Seat Sale Opens Today!

Fans will have a chance to own a bit of history as the Coliseum seat sale opens Thursday, May 30.

Seats are being sold in pairs and there are about 5,000 pairs of seats available from all levels of the bowl. Buyers can choose what style of seat they want, and how many pairs they wish to purchase. There are no limits on how many pairs a person can buy, except for the original floor-mounted, wood-back upper deck seats which have a limit of two pairs per person. Each pair will be sold for $230 including tax.

Due to the volume of seats, the sale cannot accommodate special requests or requests for a specific seat number, row or section. There are both floor-mount and wall-mount seats available, and they are sold as is.

Seats are being sold through a third-party auction house to provide the online sale, which is <https://www.govplanet.com/coecoliseumseats>.

This seat sale is part of the Exhibition Lands site transition and strategy to responsibly manage surplus assets. The City aims to repurpose and sell as many assets as possible. The City and the Edmonton Economic Development Corporation (who now operates the Expo Centre) have repurposed $700,000 worth of equipment for their operations. All proceeds from selling surplus assets will be used to offset costs associated with maintaining the Exhibition Lands site.
