South pedestrian access is still the same on the SE corner of the bridge, either up the wooden stairs from Emily Murphy Park or down the sidewalk along the ramp. Pedestrians will need to head south at the top of the stairs to access the detour around the construction site.

North pedestrian access is still the same on the NE corner of the bridge, with the new sidewalk open.