

Message from His Worship
Mayor Stephen Mandel

On behalf of City Council and the people of Edmonton, Alberta's Capital City, I am pleased to extend sincere congratulations to the recipients of the Salute to Excellence Citation and Performance Awards.

From artists to athletes, these awards are given to individuals and groups who have dedicated their valuable time in arts and culture, sports and community service. Through integrity and dedication to excellence, these honourees have not only contributed to the unique and diverse framework of our community, but have also enhanced Edmonton's reputation as a great place to call home.

Congratulations to all of the award recipients! Your talents and achievements provide leadership, vision and a reason to celebrate our city and its citizens.

All the best for an enjoyable evening!

Stephen Mandel

Citation Awards

The City of Edmonton has justifiably earned its reputation as the City of Volunteers. Every facet of life in our city is enriched by the dedication of volunteers in arts and culture, sports, and community service.

The Citation Award honours those individuals or groups who have given significant service and inspiring leadership in these areas.

Miki Andrejevic

Arts and Culture

Miki Andrejevic emigrated from Yugoslavia to Edmonton in 1990. Moving from newcomer to vital player in the arts scene, he worked as the Writers Guild of Alberta executive director. During this time, Andrejevic and The Banff Centre initiated the festival that evolved into Calgary's Wordfest. Andrejevic became artistic director of the Edmonton International Literary Arts Festival and served as executive director for Alberta's professional choir, Pro Coro Canada. Today, as University of Alberta Festival of Ideas executive director, he is working on the third event scheduled for 2012. Andrejevic's lifetime arts commitment, equally exhibited through volunteerism, includes serving as Edmonton's Writer in Exile program chair, as PEN Canada board member, and on numerous committees.

Eva Bostrand

Arts and Culture

Eva Bostrand moved from Sweden to Alberta in 1983 to perform, conduct, and teach through Pro Coro Canada and the Alberta College Conservatory of Music. As well as bringing exemplary skills to develop Alberta's professional choir, she has coached numerous students. Many became voice teachers and internationally recognized singers. Bostrand's passion to help others through the arts led her to develop a choir for inmates at the Edmonton Institution for Women, a music scholarship for released inmates, and the Joyful Noise choir for those who doubt their musical abilities but want to experience the joy of singing. Bostrand continues to inspire Edmontonians to participate in the arts.

Sharon and Steve Budnarchuk

Arts and Culture

Owners of Audreys Books, Sharon and Steve Budnarchuk are dedicated to developing community through literature. Steve is a former president of the Canadian Booksellers Association while Sharon is LitFest's founding chair and former chair of the Downtown Business Association and Fringe Theatre Adventures. Both have served on numerous volunteer boards including the Alberta Book Fair Society, Project Adult Literacy Society, and Canadian Children's Book Centre. Their efforts have enabled 250 authors to launch books and 1,450 authors to present readings. Audreys has hosted writers-in-residence and sponsored the City of Edmonton Book Prize throughout its 15 year history. As an independent bookstore, Audreys serves a unique role by providing valuable exposure for emerging and local authors and contributing to Edmonton's downtown vibrancy.

Dr. David Cook

Arts and Culture

One of Edmonton's most informed musical scholars, the late Dr. David Cook touched many lives in Edmonton's cultural community. A long time supporter of Edmonton Opera and a pre-performance lecturer for nearly 10 years, he delivered meticulously researched lectures with great wit and charm. A tireless volunteer, he served on the Edmonton

Opera board of directors and Artistic Liaison Committee. Cook helped build the Hear's to Your Health music series, introduced the Mill Creek Colliery Band for 10 years, and served as host for numerous salons, cabarets, and musical functions. Also a champion of new music, jazz, experimental forms, and the classics, Cook acted as a true ambassador for nearly all of Edmonton's musical ensembles.

Rollanda Lee

Arts and Culture

Jazz singer and one of Edmonton's beloved Klondike Kates, Rollanda Lee has entertained Edmontonians and audiences around the world. As well as across Canada, she has performed jazz in the Philippines, Barbados, Japan, Thailand, Hong Kong, Holland, Germany, and United States, including 25 years with the Del Courtney Orchestra and John Norris and the New Orleans Jazz Band of Hawaii. Singing in seven languages, Lee has engaged audiences at numerous festivals exhibiting jazz's many forms. She has volunteered for 15 years as president of the Dixieland Jazz Society of Alberta, working to provide financial aid to musicians, educational institutions, and the Edmonton International Jazz Festival.

Liz Nicholls

Arts and Culture

Liz Nicholls has served as the Edmonton Journal's theatre reviewer for 28 years, as well as arts commentator for many other publications. Her sophisticated writing has explored the entire spectrum of theatre from emerging to established productions. Nicholls' independent analysis and artistic integrity have inspired readers to explore the city's theatrical wealth, challenged creators to strive, and aroused critical appreciation for Edmonton theatre. She has lectured on theatre and taught English literature at the University of Alberta and Grant MacEwan University. A respected mentor to arts writers, Nicholls has enriched Edmonton theatre through Citadel pre-show talks, Cappies Steering Committee work, and frequent public speaking engagements.

Allan E. Scott

Arts and Culture

Serving on the Art Gallery of Alberta (AGA) board of directors for the last 12 years, Allan E. Scott has had a tremendous impact on visual arts in Edmonton. After taking early retirement as chief executive officer of the Edmonton Economic Development Corporation, he devoted himself to the AGA building project.

As chair of the board, and the building and fundraising committees, Scott led a team that raised $90 million from philanthropists, the business sector, and all government levels. Keeping the project on schedule and within budget, he was instrumental in establishing this rich cultural exhibition and education space. The gallery provides Alberta artists, the Canadian arts industry, and the community a world-class museum-standard facility.

Wei Yew

Arts and Culture

Wei Yew is a graphic designer whose work has attracted world-wide attention. He created the Olympic Truce logo, as well as all the graphics for the 1988 Calgary Olympics Arts Festival.

Recognized for his ability to adapt designs to various media and three-dimensional formats, Yew is expert at translating his client's needs into images. He designed the Provincial Police and Peace Officer Memorial Monument and created branding that has raised the profile of numerous businesses and organizations including the Stollery Children's Hospital, EPCOR, Syncrude, and Citadel Theatre. Yew has taught at Grant MacEwan University and DevStudios and served as a guest lecturer throughout Western Canada and the Orient.

André and Len Aston

Community Service

André and Len Aston embody the spirit of volunteerism in Edmonton. From stuffing envelopes, to greeting patrons, and cheering runners, they have helped wherever needed with indefatigable energy and generous spirit. Their volunteer work includes 15 years with the Edmonton Symphony Orchestra and Edmonton Opera Association, 14 years with the Edmonton International Fringe Theatre Festival and Fringe Theatre Adventures, 12 years with the Alberta Ballet, nine years with the Multiple Sclerosis Society, three years with the Alberta Association of Community Living, and countless years with other organizations. The Aston's vast support to so many groups reflects their appreciation for the arts and remarkable examples of devoted community service.

Yash Pal Kalra

Community Service

Chemist Yash Pal Kalra has an extraordinary history of community involvement. In the past 35 years, he has volunteered for more than 40 organizations including the Alberta Hindi Parishad, Canadian Multicultural Education Foundation, Mahatma Gandhi Foundation for World Peace, and Young Men's Christian Association. This past July and August, Kalra gave more than 100 hours at 11 Edmonton events including the Freewill Shakespeare Festival, Edmonton Indy, and Dragon Boat Festival. He has served as president of eight national and international scientific societies and as a member of the organizing committees of 55 national and international conferences, symposia, and other scientific meetings. Kalra is also well-known at Edmonton Regional Science Fairs, which he has judged for 22 years.

Robert Steen

Community Service

Robert Steen, also known as Bicycle Bob, aims to improve the lives of underprivileged children. His desire to make a difference saw him combine a love of cycling with the belief that a good education and the opportunity to play safely help children become contributing members of society. Steen developed the Student Bicycle Awards Program to give hardworking, disadvantaged students their first bikes. With helmets and reconditioned bikes from The Brick Sport Central, Steen personally delivers bikes to recipients' schools or homes with the message that hard work in school will lead to future success. He has presented nearly 800 bikes to Edmonton children.

Hang Vinh

Community Service

Hang Vinh has had a tremendous impact on Edmonton's Vietnamese community. Sensitive to the difficulties of transition, Vinh has worked to meet the emotional, spiritual, and physical needs of immigrants. Her volunteerism began with translation services and helping seniors understand the paperwork needed to manage taxation and benefits. Vinh's involvement expanded to fundraising, land acquisition, and a construction project to build Edmonton's first Vietnamese home for seniors. Noting how language and transportation barriers isolated seniors, she applied her leadership skills to establish culturally appropriate housing and supported living services. Vinh's efforts led to the opening of the Tuoi Hac Golden Age Manor and improved quality of life for Edmonton's growing senior population.

Robert Grose

Sport

Robert Grose has spent more than 20 years actively organizing, promoting, and participating in squash at club, local, and national levels. Noted for his communication, organization, and interpersonal skills, Grose volunteered on the Squash Alberta board of directors for eight years, the last six as president. He recently sat on the Edmonton Sport Council board and was involved with the Edmonton Squash League executive for more than 10 years. Grose served as squash sport chairman for the 2008 Alberta Winter Games. He was also squash chairman and on the Sports and Venue Committee for the 2005 World Masters Games. His efforts have provided Edmonton squash club members countless opportunities to hone their skills and achieve noted recognition.

James Lin

Sport

James Lin has provided exceptional leadership and selfless volunteerism to the Edmonton badminton community. After a year as vice-president of the Edmonton District Badminton Association, with a membership of more than 900 active badminton players of all ages, Lin spent five years as president. He has been instrumental in revitalizing the organization, establishing low-fee junior badminton clubs, designing and running junior training programs, and developing coaches and referees. Lin also brought his skills to the City of Edmonton Gym User Committee, working to ensure fair rights for all gym users. His efforts have resulted in a strong foundation for greater community participation, enjoyment, and team spirit in the sport of badminton.

Susan Morgan

Sport

Susan Morgan has devoted 23 years to minor football's growth in Edmonton. Her contribution equals the hours of a full-time job during the season, with registration, clinics, equipment maintenance, and fundraising demanding time the rest of the year. She has ensured underprivileged children can play, provided them with pre-game meals, and found sponsors to allow thousands of children to attend Edmonton Eskimo games. Morgan's executive positions have included president of both South Edmonton Minor Football, Edmonton and District Bantam Football, as well as Edmonton Minor Director to Football Alberta. She is currently the manager of the Edmonton Chargers Football Club and on the executive of Capital District Minor Football. Her commitment to young players lives on with former Charger players making up the majority of the current coaching staff.

Arts & Culture Performance Award

Métis Child & Family Jiggers

The Métis Child & Family Jiggers are a youth dance group committed to the cultural preservation of traditional Métis music and dance. Varying in age from 11-18, this dedicated group has practiced and performed together since 2004. They promote the living history of the Métis culture by performing time-honoured dances to the sound of the fiddle. These dances include Drops of Brandy, Duck Dance, Reel of Four, Reel of Eight, and the ever-popular Red River Jig. The dancers have entertained the Queen at the Alberta Legislature, performed in Hawaii at the Healing Our Spirit Worldwide conference, and distinguished themselves at numerous competitions in Alberta and Saskatchewan.
