

Participant Registration & Consent Form 2022

Thank you for your interest in the City of Edmonton's Building Energy Benchmarking Program. Building owners and property managers who operate large buildings (over 1,000 SQF) within Edmonton are encouraged to participate in this program. For details on the program and the benefits of participation please see edmonton.ca/energybenchmarking

This form is your consent to the terms of disclosure for the program. By participating in the program and submitting this form, you authorize the City of Edmonton to publicly display aggregate data and metrics about your building(s) energy usage and performance. You also consent to participating in an evaluation process designed to help the City of Edmonton develop future versions of this program. Your information may also be used to contribute to the development of other Energy Transition programs. The deadline to complete this form is October 15, 2022, while the deadline to share your 2021 data with the City of Edmonton is November 15, 2022.

If you require support with this form, or have questions about the program, contact energystar@edmonton.ca

- While building-level energy disclosure is encouraged from all participants, it is voluntary for year three of the program. What level of disclosure do you consent to for this specific building?
  - Aggregate, anonymized data only
  - Aggregate, anonymized data and building-level details

III. CONSENT

Please carefully read the following, then click the box to the left of each section to confirm that you have read, understood and agree with the terms set out below. This consent form is only applicable to your building's energy consumption and associated metrics (as outlined below) for the term of January 1, 2021 to December 31, 2021.

By submitting this form, you confirm that:

- You consent to personal information related to your building(s) participation in Edmonton's Building Energy Benchmarking Program being collected, used and stored internally by the City of Edmonton for the purposes of the design and evaluation of energy transition programs.
- You are the property owner (or another with designated authority) for all building(s) described in section II of this form.
- You understand and approve the removal of consent process outlined below.
- The data you enter into ENERGY STAR Portfolio Manager and share with the City of Edmonton is accurate, to the best of your knowledge.
- You authorize the City of Edmonton to disclose publicly your building's participation in the program including each building's name, address, gross floor area and the name of the participating organization (e.g. building owner or property manager).

You consent to the City of Edmonton displaying the following on the City of Edmonton's Energy Transition Strategy website:

- The information provided by you in section II (Building Information) of this form.
- Aggregate and anonymous information about your building(s) energy and greenhouse gas emissions performance.
- Inclusion of your building(s) information, utility data and associated metrics (including building-level and sector specific benchmarking) in the analysis done for the annual, published disclosure report on the program results. Your building's data and metrics will contribute to an in-depth assessment of the energy use and greenhouse gas emissions associated with Edmonton's built environment. It is possible that your building's data may also contribute to other energy transition strategy reports and/or the development of related energy transition programs. Building-level data and metrics will remain anonymous within all public reports unless building level disclosure was approved.

Optional Consent: Building Level Disclosure

- If building-level disclosure was approved in section II, you also disclose to sharing of additional information received in response to our data information request about your property(ies) ENERGY STAR Portfolio Manager's profile, including (but not limited to) parameters such as whole-building energy use by fuel source, energy performance, whole-building water use, water performance, etc.

Removal of Consent Process

Please note that consent for each building's participation can only be provided on an annual basis, as a result you cannot consent for multiple years at once. The ability to withdraw your consent is dependent on the timing of the withdrawal request. If you wish to withdraw your consent for the public disclosure of your building(s) data please consider:

- If the annual Building Energy Benchmarking Report has not yet been published on the City of Edmonton website then you may request to have your building(s) data removed and your participation revoked by emailing energystar@edmonton.ca
- If the annual Building Energy Benchmarking Report has been published on the City of Edmonton website, you cannot revoke your building(s) consent.
- If you have any questions or concerns with anything included in this consent form, please email energystar@edmonton.ca.

IV. NEXT STEPS & NEWSLETTER

After you submit this registration form you should receive a confirmation email from energystar@edmonton.ca that includes next steps. ## V. SUBMISSIONS & FOIP STATEMENT

This information is being collected by the City under the authority of section 33(c) of the Alberta Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act, and will be used to authorize public disclosure of building specific energy data, to inform and evaluate Edmonton's Building Energy Benchmarking Program. Aggregate and anonymous data on whole building utility use and associated performance metrics that are collected from building owners and property managers will be used in public energy transition reports, to populate an online disclosure platform and to inform the development of other City of Edmonton energy transition programs focused on energy use in commercial buildings. Building level data will be disclosed for those who provided consent above. Your personal information will be used by the City of Edmonton to communicate with you regarding the program.

If you have any questions about the collection, use or disclosure of information, please contact the Commercial Energy Program Coordinator at 780 496 1923, Edmonton Tower, 10111-104 Avenue, T5J 4X1.
