Demolition of the former NAIT LRT Station

Former NAIT LRT Station

On March 18, 2024, crews will begin demolishing the former NAIT LRT station. The project will salvage materials and parts that will be used for other ETS projects in the future. The demolition is anticipated to take two months and will include some weekend LRT service impacts in mid-April that could impact riders. Wayfinding and signage will be in place during this work to help riders navigate around the construction site. Throughout the demolition, the sidewalk on the east side of 109 Street will be closed (photo below).

Once crews have completed the demolition of the station, they will begin adding landscaping and architectural elements to the area, which is anticipated to occur until October. In 2025, it is anticipated that a public art installation will be added to this area.
