Individuals are not eligible for the Leisure Access Program if they:

- Exceed the Income Thresholds for the LAP Annual Program or LAP Monthly Pass in the Income Qualifications section.
- Cannot provide one of the listed qualifying documents.
- Are students currently taking full-time classes at NAIT, MacEwan University or the University of Alberta, and pay fees/tuition toward their school's recreation facilities. However, they may still qualify if they have eligible dependants aged 17 or younger and meet income qualifications.

Faxed or emailed forms are not accepted.

The length of the approval process is subject to change depending on time of year and number of applications received. For questions about the programs and the application process, please call 311 or email lap@edmonton.ca.

All applications to the Leisure Access & Ride Transit Programs are evaluated based on the household as defined by the Canada Revenue Agency.

If you and your family/spouse have different approval terms, our office will require the whole family and/or both spouses to fully reapply to be re-evaluated for renewal.

Any appeals to declined applications must be received within 90 days of the date on the decline letter.

Due to COVID-19, most City facilities remain closed for in-person transit pass sales, including City recreation facilities and the Edmonton Service Centre downtown.

As a result there are new ways to purchase your Ride Transit pass. For more details please visit:
