

Year of the Tiger Word Search

This year, the Muttart Conservatory is celebrating the Year of the Tiger! There is actually only one species of tiger in the entire world, separated into six living subspecies. All six subspecies are considered endangered and three of them are critically endangered including the Amur Tiger, who you can visit at the Edmonton Valley Zoo. You can help save tigers by spreading awareness and finishing the word search below to discover more ways to help this amazing species!

Directions: Discover how to save our big cats! Words can be found forwards, backwards, diagonally, horizontally, and vertically.
