Question:

Are you in favour of a two-year term for Mayor? *

For: 9,959

Against: 8,312

Money Bylaw Question:

Shall the Council pass a bylaw to create a debt in the sum of $1,500,00.00 for the purpose of constructing, within the City of Edmonton, a municipal building to be used as a Civic Auditorium and an Art and Recreation Centre and issue serial debentures in the sum not exceeding 30 years with interest not exceeding 4% payable semi-annually?

For: 4,362

Against: 4,105 (two-thirds majority needed, therefore bylaw was defeated)

*The following is the timeline for the approval of the two-year term for Mayor:

1. At the February 20, 1947 meeting of the Bylaws Committee, a bylaw proposing a series of Edmonton City Charter amendments was approved and forwarded to council. These amendments included provisions for day light savings time, limits on the number of taxi cab licenses and the 2-year term for mayor. In the bylaw, the approval of the 2-year term for mayor was to be put to the voters in the form of a plebiscite.
2. On February 25, 1947, these amendments were approved by City Council
3. On March 31, 1947, the Act to amend the Acts constituting the Edmonton Charter was proclaimed by Alberta Legislature. Section 1 of this act amends the Charter to allow for 2-year terms for mayor and section 1(4) states: "This section shall not come into force and effect unless the question, 'Are you in favour of a two-year term for Mayor?' is submitted by way of plebiscite to the electors of the City at the general municipal election to be held in the year 1947 and is approved by a majority of the electors voting on such questions" In other words, as soon as the question was approved by voters, it automatically came into force. (A copy of this section is included in Chapter 20 - Miscellaneous Newspaper Clips)
4. The actual approval of the various plebiscite questions listed above was done on September 22, 1947. At this meeting, council passed a motion making the hours of voting 8:30 a.m. to 7:30 p.m., passed a motion dealing with statutory advertising, passed a motion regarding the 2-year term for mayor question and passed a motion to approve "where-to-vote" cards to be sent out to voters.
5. The public voted on the question and approved the 2-year term.

* In the spring 1966 session of the Alberta Legislature, the Provincial Government passed legislation that amended the Public Health Act to allow public approval of fluoridation questions WITHOUT the two-third majority normally required to approve public questions. The fluoridation question was asked in a number of Alberta municipalities such as Elk Point, Drayton Valley and Calgary. It was not a mandated province-wide question but was up to individual municipalities to ask the question.

A plebiscite was held in this election on whether a new ward system should be instituted. It was approved with 61% of the votes being in favour. The ward system will go into effect in the 1971 election. Three (3) aldermen will represent each voting section (ward), instead of twelve aldermen representing the whole city. This will enable voters to know the candidates better.

The authority to elect alderman by wards was given by the Provincial Government when they passed and proclaimed the Municipal Elections Act on May 2, 1968. This is the forerunner to the Local Authorities Election Act. The act allowed for wards within a local jurisdiction and required that all Elected Officials serve a 3-year term with elections held every 3rd year starting in 1968. It also specified that Nomination Day will be held on the third Monday of September and Election Day will be 4 weeks after this time.

This Act will also apply to school board elections.

1. Are you in favour of bylaw No. 6403, a bylaw to designate a building within the City of Edmonton and known as the “City Hall”, a Municipal Historic Building to be preserved and used by the City?

For: 21,172

Against: 21,867

2. There are three basic options to house the Civic Government in the downtown area. These are listed below. Please choose one only.

a. Build a new City Hall on same site, according to the design selected in the recent Architectural Competition? Results: 14,126 31.9%

b. Retain and renovate the present City Hall and construct an extension to use the space between 102A Avenue and the CN Tower to incorporate the theme of the design selected in the recent Architectural Competition? Results: 19,115 43.1%

c. Retain the present City Hall and continue to lease office space as required? Results: 11,099 25.0%

Rejected Ballots – 520

3. Before 1971, there were no wards and Alderman were elected at large. For example, if there were 40 candidates for City Council, all 40 names would appear on the ballot and the 12 receiving the largest number of votes were elected. In 1971, four wards with three Aldermen each were set up. Voters in each ward voted only for the candidates competing for the positions in that ward. In 1980, the number of wards was increased to six, with two Alderman each.

The 1981 Plebiscite

In the autumn of 1980, the Save City Hall Committee presented a petition to the City Clerk, Cal McGonigle requesting that City Hall be designated as a municipal historic building to be preserved and used by the city (Bylaw 6403). After checking the petition, the City Clerk ruled that it was INVALID because it lacked the required number of signatures. In January of 1981, the Court of Queens's Bench overruled McGonigle's decision and ruled that the petition was valid. Mr. McGonigle then appealed this decision because he believed that the original judgement "... creates ambiguity about the authority of all city clerks in Alberta in respect to legislation governing petitions." The appeal was NOT at the request of City Council and funds to cover this appeal were denied by City Council. The issue revolved around the fundamental issue of what constitutes an "acceptable" signature in a plebiscite petition. Interestingly, this would lead to changes to section 126 of the MGA regarding petitions. Amendments proclaimed on June 2, 1981 in the Municipal Government Amendment Act added the 60-day time limit on submitting a petition to repeal, amend or suspend an existing bylaw. It also raised the number of signatures needed up to 5% of the population (up from the previous 3%) for a municipality with a population of 1000 or more.

City Council gave first reading to the plebiscite on April 8, 1981. Originally the vote was to be held on May 10, 1981 but was delayed until June 17, 1981 after administration discovered that information on the design of the new City Hall wasn't going to be available by May 10, 1981. Two additional questions were added to the ballot by City Council. The three questions were:

- Question #1: Are you in favor of Bylaw 6403, a bylaw to designate a building in the City of Edmonton and known as the City Hall, a municipal historic building to be preserved and used by the city?
- Question #2: Asked voters 3 options on the city hall and city staff space. The options were: 1. Build a new city hall, 2. Retain the current city hall and add an addition to it. 3. Keep current city and lease space for city employees.
- Question #3: Asks various questions about the ward system. 1. Are you in favor of keeping the ward system. 1a. Voters have an option of choosing 3 options, larger wards, smaller wards, and same sized wards.

Questions:

1. CITY COUNCIL WISHES TO RESOLVE THE AIRPORT ISSUE

Do you direct City Council to repeal “The Edmonton Municipal Airport referendum bylaw” (No. 10,205)? That bylaw requires the City to operate the Municipal Airport and promote that airport’s air passenger service.

A “YES” vote means that the City will promote MOVING scheduled air passenger service to the Edmonton International Airport.

A “NO” vote means that the City will promote MAINTAINING scheduled air passenger service at the Edmonton Municipal Airport.

Under both options the City will continue to own and offer general air services (e.g. private planes, small charters, air ambulance) at the Municipal Airport.

YES: 166,404 (76.81%)
NO: 50,253 (23.19%)

2. Do you direct City Council to PASS the Keillor Road Referendum Bylaw (No. 11, 124)?

A “YES” vote means the City must leave Keillor Road OPEN to traffic, including motor vehicle traffic.

A “NO” vote means City should CLOSE Keillor Road.

YES: 92,807 (43.67%)
NO: 119,693 (56.33%)
