Shelley Ewart-Johnson

Shelley Ewart-Johnson comes with 22 years' experience as a Senior Executive with the Government of Alberta and with the Alberta Health Care Association. With the Government of Alberta, she served as the Deputy Minister in Labour/Human Resources, Employment, Health and Wellness, Aboriginal Affairs and Northern Development, and Municipal Affairs and Housing.

Shelley has extensive experience in executive positions, strategic leadership, the development and implementation of policy and legislation, and facilitating creative and practical solutions to address issues.

She provided leadership to successful AMA/Alberta Health and Wellness negotiations and successfully mediated high profile workplace disputes including the United Nurses of Alberta, Alberta Union of Provincial Employees (AUPE), Canadian Union of Public Employees (CUPE), and the City of Edmonton.

Shelley has worked in partnership with union and non-union clients in the construction sector to promote positive labour relations and industry best practises to meet economic challenges. She supported the all-party Affordable Housing Task Team and provided leadership in implementing the government's response.

Shelley is a former member of the Local Authorities Pension Board, Alberta Labour Relations Board, Canadian Labour Market Productivity Center Board, and the Petroleum Safety Council Board.
