

An aerial photograph of a city, likely Edmonton, showing a dense urban area with various buildings and a large, open park area in the foreground. The title text is overlaid on the image.

Kinistina Park

Concept Design

workshop overview

- project history
- let's create a place...
- let's create a vision
- where we go next

project history

Kinistinaw Park

The Armature

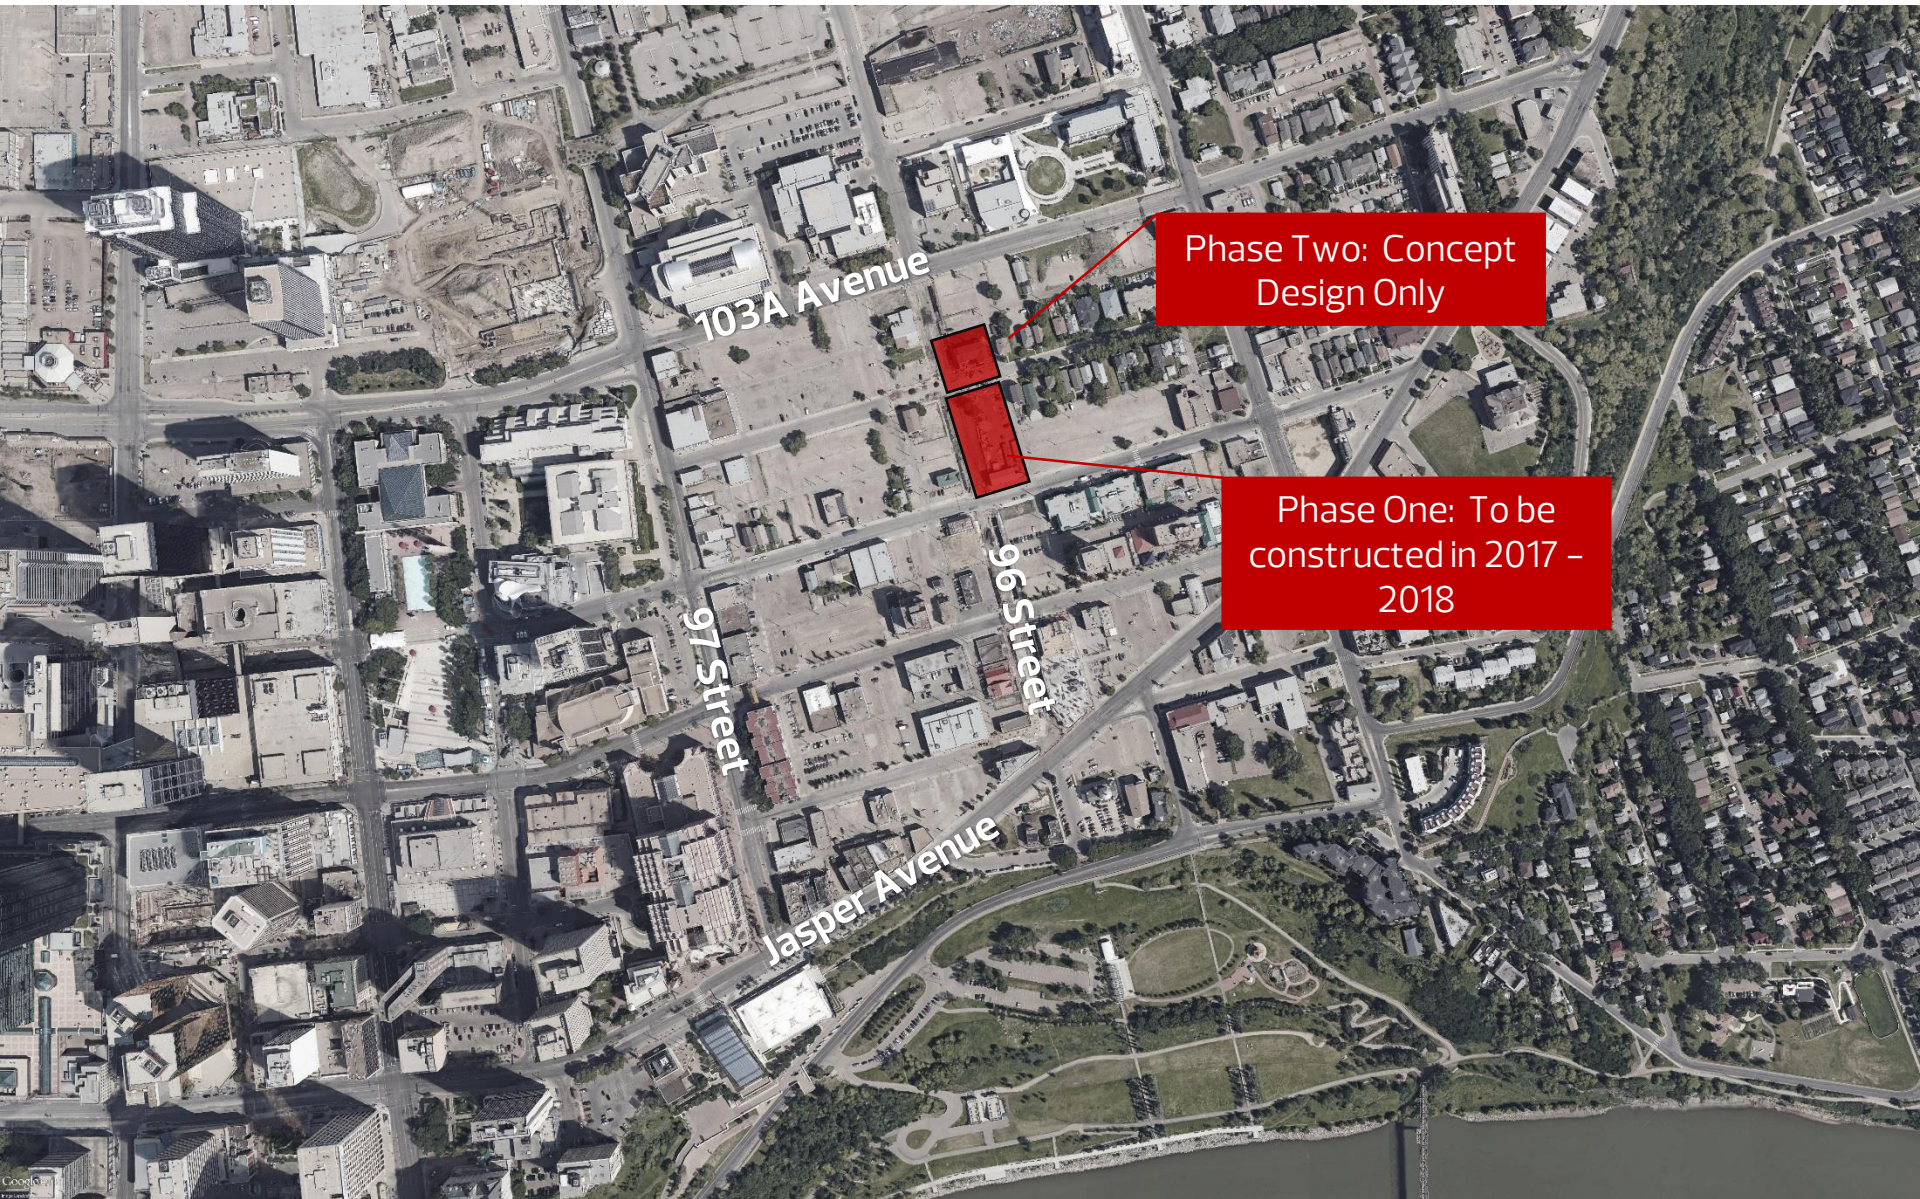

Louise McKinney
Park

project objectives

- Improve connectivity to surrounding open spaces;
- Create a focal point for year-round gathering;
- Use environmental friendly + sustainable landscape design;
- Design a vibrant, safe, and clean open space

the site

- 0.35ha sized site in The Quarters Downtown
- Adjacent to The Armature
- First major new park for East Downtown

103A Avenue

97 Street

Jasper Avenue

96 Street

Phase Two: Concept
Design Only

Phase One: To be constructed in 2017 - 2018

the site

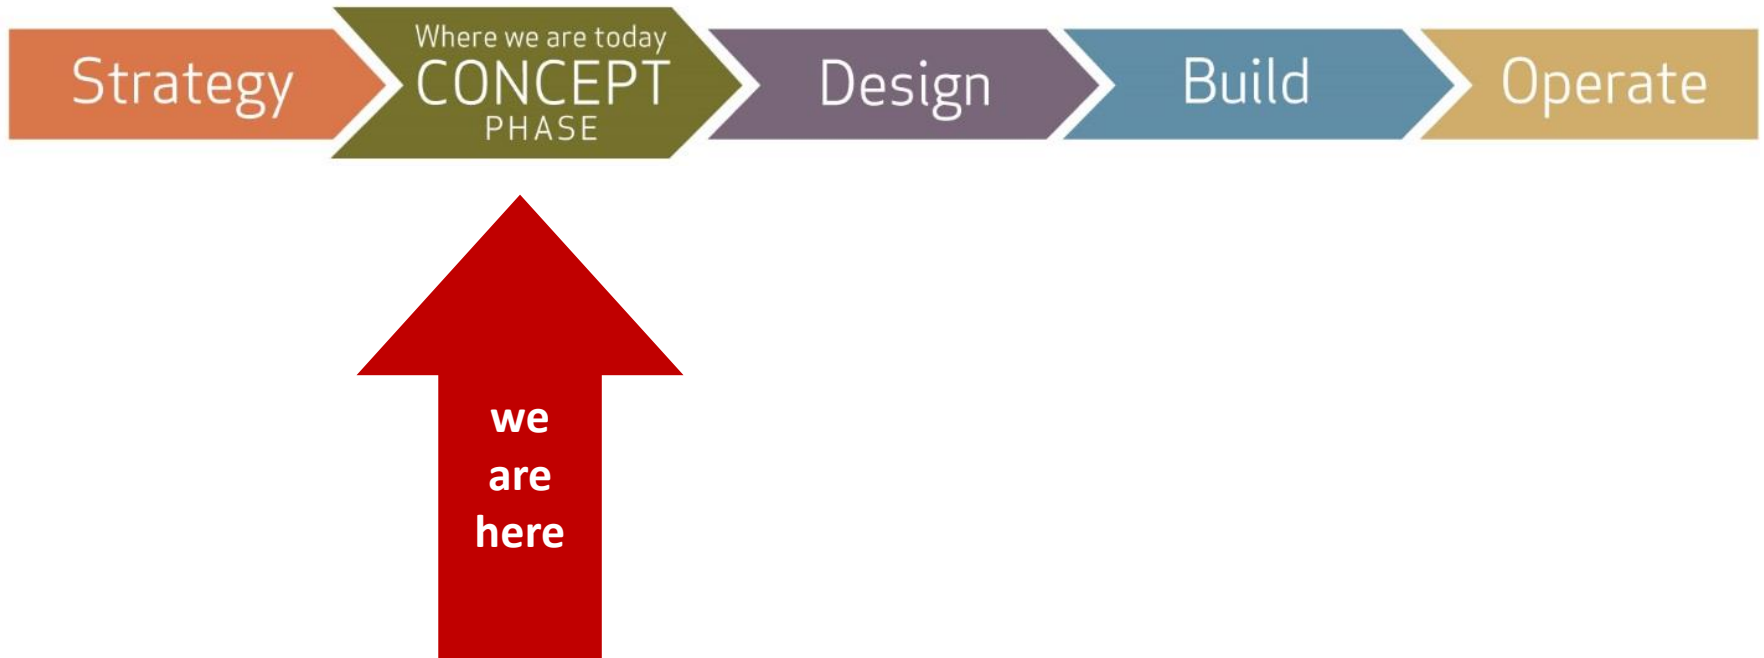

Looking North from 96 Street

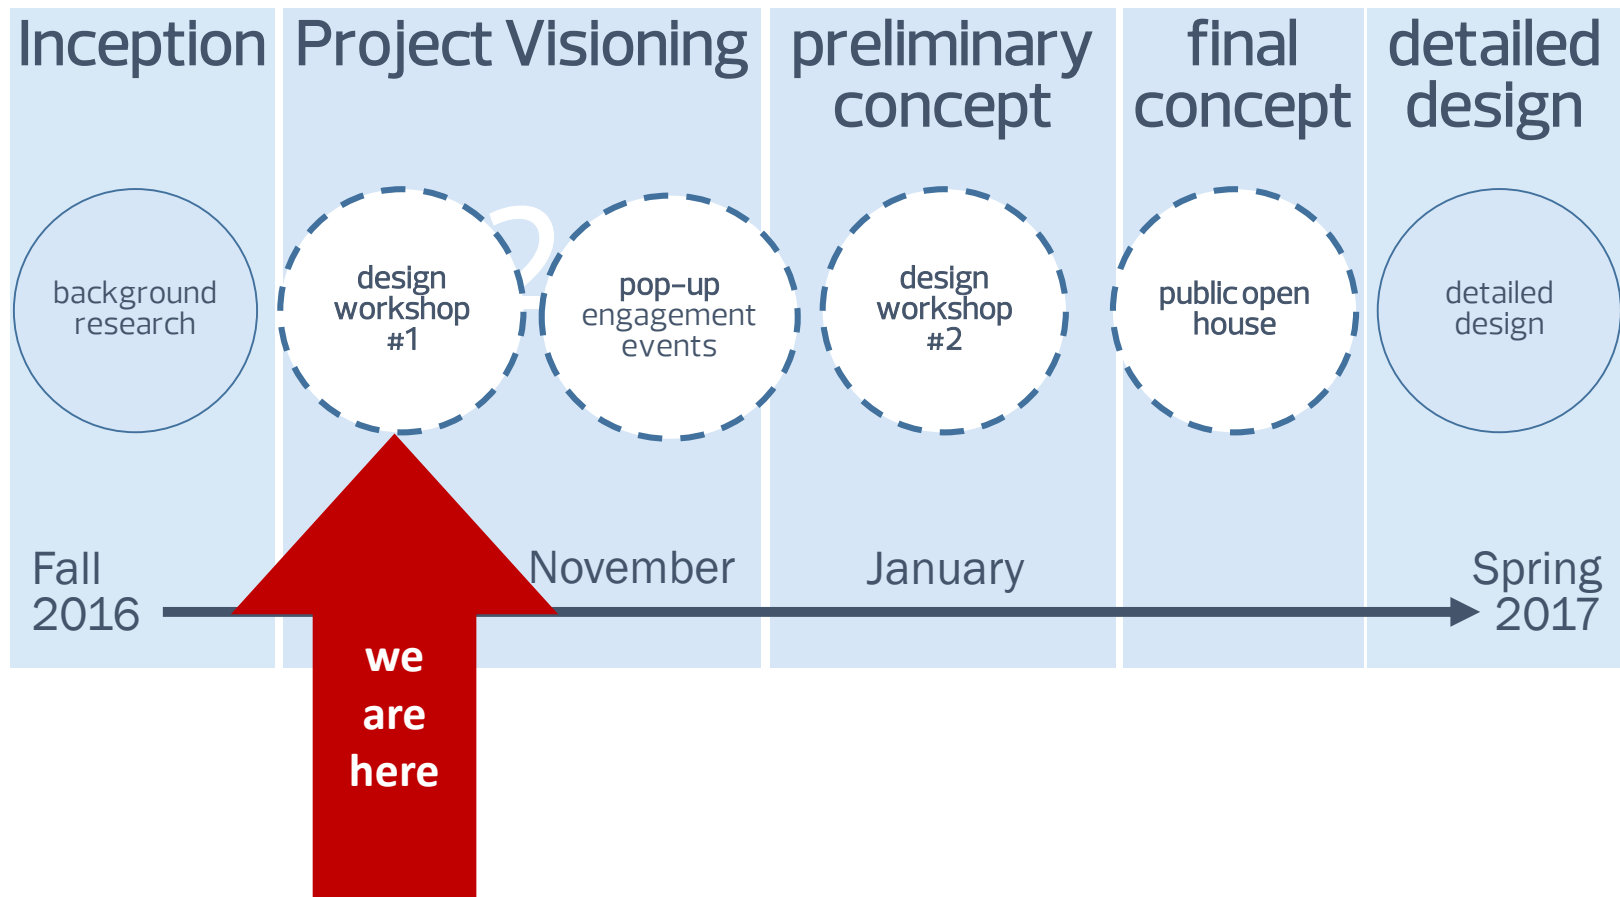

Looking East from 96 Street

project process

project process

let's create a place...

people are the place

year round is the season

activity is the new community building places around people

beauty is uncompromised

form follows function

place is authentic

art and play overlap

where people want to be inclusive + adaptable....

in all seasons....

let's create a vision...

vision

- what five words describe your future experience of Kinistinaw Park?

program

- what three things are you doing in the future Kinistinaw Park?

big moves

- what are the big ideas that deliver on that vision?

report back

what happens next?

- pop-up engagement – fall 2016
- community + stakeholder design workshop – winter 2017
- community + stakeholder workshop – spring 2017

An aerial photograph of a city, likely Vancouver, showing a dense urban area with various buildings and streets. A large, open park area is visible in the bottom right corner, which is the focus of the project. The text 'Kinistinaw Park' is overlaid in large red letters, and 'Concept Design' is overlaid in smaller black letters below it.

Kinistinaw Park

Concept Design

Thank You!