

Danielle

Physical activity has played an important role in Danielle's life and encouraged her to study at Grant MacEwan University and the University of Alberta to complete her degree in Kinesiology, Sport and Recreation.

She has previously worked with athletes at a University level and high school level and has worked at the Clareview pool for years.

Being in the kinesiology program has made Danielle passionate about helping others improve their fitness and knowledge to guide them to their goals at any age and stage of their life.
