

Construction Notice – Continued lane closures along Blackmud Creek Bridge and new lane closure at 12 Ave

Following the completion of EPCOR's utility relocation at Blackmud Creek, Leducor, the Design-Build contractor for the project, has taken over the site and 111 Street will stay as one lane northbound and one lane southbound until fall 2026.

We know this continued closure on 111 Street is challenging. The City will be enhancing communications to encourage commuters to use alternate routes instead of 111 Street. These lane closures facilitate the greatest amount of work in the shortest period of time, including the installation of deep storm drainage, the delivery and installation of bridge girders for the Blackmud Creek LRT bridge, ductbank work from the Twin Brooks Utility Complex, and preparing space for track laydown near 12 Avenue.

In addition, starting in early April, at 12 Avenue west, one of the northbound left-turn lanes onto 111 Street will be closed for drainage work (one northbound left-turn lane will remain open). A full closure is anticipated at 12 Avenue west in late spring. Once Leducor finalizes its construction schedule, the City will provide further details to the public.

Other Impacts

- Heavy truck traffic will continue on 111 Street.
- Pedestrian detours along 111 Street will continue to stay in place.
- Mitigation measures are in place to minimize disruptions as much as possible, and work will be monitored from safety, technical and environmental perspectives.
